

Horn Wins Presidency

Holmes Named New Treasurer

By MIKE QUIHILLALT

Overcoming a 115 primary vote handicap, Bob Horn won a hard fought victory over Jack Lynch for the presidency of the Associated Students in last week's run-off election.

Eclipsing Mr. Lynch's attempt for the presidency by 269 votes, President-elect Horn had a total of 794 votes against Lynch's 525 total. Horn led on all voting machines throughout the campus, with Lynch's chief strength in the cafeteria totals.

At a special election gathering, where the results were made public, President-elect Bob Horn expressed the sentiment: "I'm your servant—whatever you want me to do. I'm yours." Mr. Horn thanked both his "loyal supporters" and the voters. He stated that he enjoyed running for the presidency against a "fine lot of gentlemen."

Mr. Lynch, somewhat quiet after the results had been announced, extended his congratulations to President-elect Bob Horn. He added: "I'm sure that the students have chosen wisely, and I think Bob Horn will be a most capable representative of the students." The defeated candidate offered his services to Mr. Horn in any future Student Association endeavor.

THREE WIN SEATS

Levell Holmes copped a 127 advantage over Dick Goff for Associated Students Treasurer, winning 705 to 578. Representative at-large under 60 units will be Dick Laine, who with 710 votes defeated Mohamoud Redjaian—543.

Mike Spencer garnered 614 votes against Jaynel Sewell's 512 votes to gain a seat on the Board of Directors next year as representative at-large under 32 units.

The five constitutional amendments, the result of a year-long effort by Constitutional Revision Committee chairman Dale Tussing, all passed. Voting on them established firm two-thirds majorities or better. The tabulations on each amendment include:

Dropping the college unit requirement for activities commissioner from 60 to 45: Yes—841; No—248; the establishment of two "alternate" members to the Board of Directors: Yes—846; No—218; the inaugural of new provisions for notice of elections: Yes—875; No—206; setting up special dates for a constitutional-amendment vote by students, between 7 and 21 days after passage by Board of Directors: Yes—877; No—177; and the amendment for the addition of one representative at-large over 60 units to the Board, and clarification clause on remaining representatives: Yes—900; No—188.

As a result of the primary election and the run-off elections, the major officers taking command of the Associated Students next year are: President Bob Horn, Vice-President Alice Pappas, Treasurer Levell Holmes, Secretary Ann Marie Olson, and Activities Commissioner Karl Knuth.

Official Notice

PRE-REGISTRATION

A two-week advising period for all students planning to attend or return in the Fall will be held during the period May 10-21. All advisers have been asked to post sign-up sheets enabling students to arrange for definite appointments.

High sophomores are urged to see their General Education advisers in the first of the two weeks, arranging with them to effect the switch to the major advisers in the fields of their choice. These students are warned that, after consulting with the proper major advisers, they are expected to file the Application for Major in the Evaluations Office, Administration Building No. 156. Any upper division student who has not yet filed an Application for Major should arrange to do so immediately.

Freshmen and low sophomores should make appointments with their General Education advisers only if they know that all their work has been of satisfactory caliber or for advisement for the Summer Session. Those who may receive D's, F's or Incompletes should wait until the Orientation period next Fall semester, September 14-16. They may, at that time, secure their grades for this semester and make their programs with their advisers in light of the known results.

Time schedules for the Fall semester will be available in the Bookstore on Monday, May 17.

Student Body Presidents Convene Here May 12-15

San Francisco State will host representatives from 120 colleges and universities at the 29th annual Pacific Student Presidents' Association, May 12-15.

As a result of great support from colleges throughout the bay area, S.F. State was chosen over Montana State's offer of Yellowstone National Park and Santa Barbara State's offer of their new campus as meeting sites.

Bert Phillips, official host for the convention, states, "I feel that the close association that we have had with the 16 host colleges has proven most beneficial to San Francisco State as well as to the other colleges. The Pacific Student Presidents' Association truly benefits the entire campus community as it provides opportunities for Student Body Presidents and other student leaders to discuss on a face-to-face basis many problems and questions that confront the student campus community."

"We at San Francisco State feel honored to be chosen to host the 29th annual convention, and we sincerely feel that the delegates will benefit immensely in terms of fellowship, sharing of ideas, and the mutual benefits that can be gained only from a conference such as this."

Speakers for this year's convention will be Monroe Deutsch, Richard L. Evans, Dr. J. Paul Leonard, and Dr. J. E. Wallace Sterling.

Some of the students from State working on the conference are: Yvonne Matoff, Executive Assistant, Marge Robson, Executive Secretary, Dale Tussing, Co-Chairman Brochure Committee, Paula Wright, Assistant Executive Secretary, and Marion Steward, Assistant Executive Secretary Assisting Mr. Tussing on the Brochure committee is Charlotte Kjellstead from the College of Arts and Crafts.

GATER POSTS OPEN TO PETITION

Those students interested in editorial positions with the Gater or the Franciscan this summer must have petitions submitted by May 7, to the ASSFSC business office.

Not one petition has been received to date.

Previously these petitions have been distributed in journalism classes, but they are now available in the Associated Students business office.

Last week the Board of Publications acted on the proposal to set the terms of the Editor and Managing Editor for a one year period, approving it unanimously.

The summer positions will still be separate and will be filled from those positions submitted by the May 7 deadline.

Air Force Opens House to Visitors

Movie star Diana Lynn will be the Armed Forces Day Queen at S.F. State Tuesday, May 11, when the ROTC will play host to the public in a spectacular "open house" day.

Miss Lynn will present the awards to be given to outstanding cadets. Other presentations will include: The Air Force Association Award, the Consolidated Vultee Award, and the Republic Aviation Award.

In addition to these awards, the finest precision drill teams of the Northern California colleges and universities will take turns on the field in a display of the best marching skill to be found in this area.

Another interesting feature of the day will be an actual jet fighter aircraft which will be on display somewhere in the central portion of the campus. This plane is the XF-85 Parasite Fighter which was built by the McDonnell Corp.

In addition to this display there will be a special van containing a free exhibit of aircraft engines featuring cut-away models of a J-35 turbo-jet engine and an R-2800 reciprocating engine; these engines are in use today in the Air Forces' powerful jet and propeller-driven combat aircraft.

An informal luncheon will be held in the College Union building for all students and their guests. Visitors will include cadets from the University of California, Stanford, and San Jose State College, and their special guest, Miss Diana Lynn.

The highlight of the event will be an assembly at Cox Stadium at 1 p.m. At which time all of the AFROTC cadets of this and visiting colleges and universities will gather in the stadium for a formal "Pass In" (Continued on Page 3)

Intra-Mural Track and Field Events To Be Held in Cox Stadium Today

By H. ROSCELLI

Frank "Bow Tie" Walsh and Ben Elkus have contacted every male who can walk or crawl, to compete in the Intra-Mural Track and Field meet in Cox Stadium today at noon.

Something like 150 men will compete in State's answer to the Olympics.

Ron and Jerry Rosenberg, two time winners of the high school shot put, will be heavy favorites to capture the event.

Al Pacheco, who posted a 2:00 flat 880 in the Modesto Relays is rumored to have run a hot 1:59 880 in a practice session. All eyes will be on Al in the 880.

Bob Leibe, Herb Anderson, and Frank Verducci are the ones to watch in the 100 yard dash, although "Roffers" Raffelo, a one time Polytechnic High great may upset the pack.

Stanford Kroner and Bob "Hook" Arata are the ones to beat in the pole vault. Arata may win by a nose.

Alpha Zeta Sigma, once a power as the team winners, was defeated last year for the first time in five years, when it was upset by the East Bay A.C.

This year the spectators will watch a close race for team honors between Delta Phi Gamma, Alpha Zeta Sigma and Kappa Omega.

Everyone is invited to witness this spectacle at 12 noon.

Golf Team Wins; Howe Shoots 75

State's golf team rolled to their 10th win of the year last week, defeating Sacramento State at Sharp Park by the walloping score of 19½-1½.

The day's scores were very good, considering that the match was played in a rainstorm and that the course was very muddy and tricky. Win Howe, rapidly becoming the Gator's most consistent golfer, fired a 75 to wrap up medalist's honors.

George Stern carded a 77 to capture the runner-up spot. Bobby Fry of Sacramento State shot an 81 to take honors for the losers.

Sportrait

Ron and Jerry Rosenberg, one of the best brother teams to hit State in the past several years, are this week's Sportrait choices for their outstanding performances on the baseball field the past couple of weeks.

Both graduates of Washington High of San Francisco, Ron, a sophomore, and Jerry, a freshman, have established themselves as two of the steadiest ball players on the club.

Ron, who was ineligible last year because of a term's attendance at the University of Washington, has been the least spectacular but most steady hitter on the club. He is hitting at a .300 clip, smacks an occasional long ball, such as the 400 foot homer he hit against Nevada last week-end, and has turned in some of the most spectacular fielding performances from his left field position on the club.

Although younger Jerry, a smooth workman around first base, is hitting only around .250, he has proven himself to be possibly the best clutch hitter on the team, having several times come through with hits when needed, besides having whacked a couple of homeruns.

Gator Track Team to Compete in Invitational Meet at San Jose

In preparation for next week-end's Far Western Conference Track and Field Meet the Golden Gator thinclads will compete in the San Jose Invitational Meet, tomorrow. San Jose State hosts this meet annually.

Although such teams as Fresno State, Cal Poly, Santa Barbara College, the Olympic Club, Santa Clara Youth Center, various military teams, San Jose, and SFS will compete, the meet is known as an "All-comers meet," that is, a contest between individuals rather than teams. No team scores are recorded, and the individual performance of each participant is where the entire emphasis is placed. Due to this fact, there will be a number of contestants not affiliated with any team, running in San Jose, tomorrow.

Among those who will be opposing State's entries, should be some of the world's foremost athletes, such as Held in the javelin, Mattos in the pole vault, Sims in the discus and shot, and Don George in the quarter mile.

(Editor's Note: President Phillips read this letter to last week's Board of Directors meeting.)

Dear Mr. Phillips:

As the representative of the college to the California Association of Secondary School Administrators and their annual conference held on our campus this past week, I want to express my real appreciation to you, your associates, and the student body for their generous cooperation in making space available during the lunch hour.

On behalf of the association we want to thank you for the many special services you and your students showed our members while we were on your campus holding our conference.

If we inconvenienced you, it was made up in good will and fine impressions that our thousands of members have for the Associated Students of San Francisco State. Thank you one and all.

Cordially yours,
O. I. Schmaelzle,
President
Frederic T. Shipp
Professor of Education

Ed. Note:

Mr. Courvoisier's comment on the Stoffel concert was given to us as a review. But because our staff reviewer has reviewed the concert, we have put Mr. Courvoisier's words in the "Golden Gater" in the form of a letter to the Editor.

Editor:

One of the most rewarding concerts that I have attended in college was that of Ronald Stoffel, for violin and piano, April 26, in the main auditorium on our campus. The concert was rewarding in several ways. First to the music student, the concert consisted wholly of contemporary music, a rarity as any music student can vouch for. Secondly, the music itself was performed with consummate taste and understanding both by the soloist and the accompanist, Mr. Abramowitsch. Thirdly, though the audience was small, it was attentive and responsive; qualities highly desirable—not only on our own campus but at concerts everywhere.

The Suite Italienne (after Pergolesi) by Stravinsky which opened the concert is an excellent piece in terms of craftsmanship, rhythmic development, harmonic interest... The Alban Berg Violin Concerto, the next piece, demonstrated to me that twelve-tone music need not necessarily be cold and detached. On the contrary, the concerto fully projected varying emotions, as convincingly as other serious music does... "Things Seen to the Right and To the Left" (Without Glasses) by Erick Satie was a highly satirical piece written as a violent reaction and protest to the top-heavy compositions and orchestras of the preceding era.

The balance of the program consisted of a Sonatine by Ellis Kohs, and the Second Rhapsody by Bela Bartok.

With the exception of the Composer's Forum concerts once a year, the chances of hearing an all contemporary music program are very few indeed. For what the audience lacked in size, was more than compensated by tremendous enthusiasm.

Mr. Stoffel is to be congratulated. It takes courage not only to play a program such as this, but to memorize the difficult music and to rehearse it as well. In terms of musicianship, we all learned something, and it is to Mr. Stoffel's credit that we did so. The accompanist, Mr. Abramovitsch, is to be congratulated also.

Duncan M. Courvoisier

Speech Test Held Here

The Speakers' Bureau will hold an intra-college speech contest on Friday, May 14. The contest is open to all non-speech majors and students who have never competed in speech events for San Francisco State College.

There will be three events: a discussion, an impromptu speaking and one man debate. Students may enter as individuals or with the sponsorship of an organization. Awards will be given to the first three places, and to the club or organization that wins the sweepstakes by having the largest number of entrants, plus their winning points.

Subject matter for the contest will revolve around the college community, and will be listed on each application form. Registration is 10 cents per event.

Additional information will be given to all organizations via their mail boxes in the student body office, and through the Speakers Bureau News. Registration forms will be available in the Student Body office this Friday, and will be due on Wednesday, May 12.

British Consul Speaks May 10

Sir Robert Hadow, British Consul-General of San Francisco, will speak next Monday, May 10, in the College Union's Dining Rooms A and B.

Sponsored by the newly organized Economic Discussion Club, Sir Hadow will speak on the "British Economy Today."

The talk is open to the general student body and will begin at 10 a.m. next Monday, May 10.

Introducing Sir Hadow will be Dr. T. Lantos, sponsor of the Economic Discussion Club, and member of the San Francisco State College faculty.

Two $400 Scholarship Awards Given To State by Standard Oil Company

San Francisco State recently received two scholarship awards of $400 each as a result of a new Leadership Award Program created by the Standard Oil Company of California.

Based on evidence concluded from discussions between company and school authorities this new program will include all of the 75 accredited four-year co-educational and men's colleges in seven Western states, Hawaii and Alaska.

Mr. F. R. Meyer, District Manager of the Standard Oil Company of California, explained that the new plan was an effort by the company to relieve the financial difficulties hindering many students possessing the qualities of leadership, as well as an attempt to reduce the financial pressure that some non-tax supported schools have faced in recent years.

In contrast to the old Leadership Scholarship Program which, for five years, has awarded 36 scholarships of $500 each to nine state and territorial universities, this will be a greatly expanded plan involving more scholarships of lesser sums at more institutions, there by covering an even larger scope than before.

S.F. State has qualified for the first period of 1954-55 and 1955-56. It was emphasized however, that while this program is to be projected over a long period of time the company cannot make commitments beyond the first year.

A scholarship committee of the college will select from any undergraduate class recipients adjudged according to leadership, need and scholarship. Each one of these qualifications are to receive equal consideration.

To enable more students to benefit from this plan no student will be allowed to receive the award for more than one year.

Applications for these scholarships will be accepted no later than May 20, 1954.

Baseballers Split With Chico State

LaCosta Stars On Mound At Bat In First Game Win

By LE ROY PACINI

Bob LaCosta, who appeared to spectators and Chico State players to be a casual sun bather lolling in the left field bleachers, sleepily entered what appeared to be a lost ball game last Saturday and virtually beat Chico single-handedly, 7-5, with stereotyped Frank Merriwell-like pitching and hitting performances.

Spoiling the illusion, the Gators kicked away the second game, 5-1, just about eliminating themselves from all FWC championship contention.

A week day post office worker and week-end infielder-outfielder, La Costa, Saturday's hero, nonchalantly thrilled on-lookers with a pinch-hit, initial run scoring single in the fifth inning, a winning run, a single in the sixth inning, and a brilliant clutch pitching seventh inning performance. Things could only have been more perfect had Bart Hodges been catching.

It looked bad for the Gators when their starter, Lefty Clint Lee, lost his control in the second inning and allowed Chico four runs. Lee gave way to Elmer Clawson with two outs in the third inning, after having given up only two hits, but five walks and two wild pitches. Lee had struck out two.

Clawson went two-and-a-third innings, allowing only two hits and striking out one. He was taken out when LaCosta pinch hit for him and drove in Jerry Rosenberg in the sixth for State's first run.

Then LaCosta, who had only pitched a combined total of 10 innings in his four-year college career, one of them this season, got the Chico boys down in order in their sixth.

Bob Quattrin started off the Gator sixth inning with a single. After Ron Rosenberg went out, followed with singles. Jerry Rosenberg made an out, but Sal Lenci was hit, and Lou Rosse walked. This tied things up and left the bags loaded. Then came LaCosta's two run scoring single.

Things were not yet over though. The first two Chico batters collected hits off LaCosta in the last inning of the abbreviated affair. The next man sacrificed.

Then a boy named Stafford, a dangerous pinch hitter, was inserted. He slammed a vicious drive through the box. But LaCosta, still annoyed at having been disturbed from his nap, stood his ground, grabbed the slasher off his shoe tops, and wheeled around and doubled Resberg the runner, off of second base.

After being carried off the field by his jubilant teammates, the easy-going LaCosta claimed he was never worried, and continued his sun bath until the next game began.

Heckmann ended up with a seven-hit performance in the seven-inning game not allowing an earned run, and striking out five while walking none.

Chico pitcher John Leual was brilliant, throwing a two hitter at the Gators. He truck out six, walked eight, threw one wild pitch and hit one man with a pitched ball.

Gator Nine Attempts To Stop Errors; Meets Jacks

Still floundering amidst one of the worst error epidemics ever to hit the campus, State's determined Gator baseball team attempts to get back in Far Western Conference contention tomorrow when they meet a strong Humboldt State nine at Arcata in a night doubleheader.

This will be the Gator's last chance to make a bid for the championship they had hoped for at the season's outset. Although the Staters sport a pretty good record, it would be better had men expected to be heavy hitters come through, and had infield errors not come in bushels.

The games tomorrow night, first one scheduled to start at 7:00 have to both be won by the Gators if they hope to have even a slight mathematical chance of bringing home a pennant.

Lefty Clint Lee and right-hander Joel Heckmann will probably share the starting roles in the double header For State. John Kalberer and Elmer Clawson can be expected to lend relief support if necessary.

Freshman Tony Cannizzo and sophomore Ron Rosenberg are the Gator top hitters, Cannizzo hitting at a .330 clip and Rosenberg hitting .300. Both men can be expected to deliver long blows. Rosenberg has also probably come up with more defensive gems in his left field position than any other player on the club.

Playing under the lights shouldn't affect the Gator hitters too much. In their only other night game this season, played against Mare Island Navy Yard, the Gators came through with a 9-3 victory spearheaded by a 13 hit attack. Cannizzo had four hits, while third baseman Bob Quattrin collected five in this donnybrook.

What makes a Lucky
taste better?

"IT'S TOASTED"
to taste better!

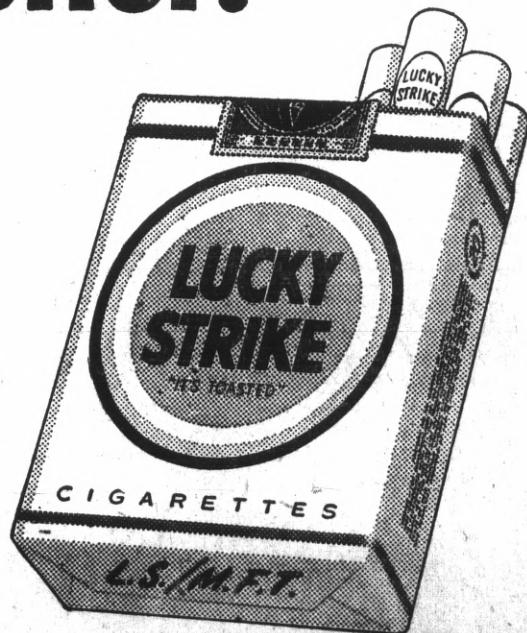

WHY do thousands of college smokers from coast to coast prefer Luckies to all other brands?

BECAUSE Luckies taste better.

WHY do Luckies taste better?

BECAUSE Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. And that tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—brings fine tobacco to its peak of flavor... tones up this light, mild, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better—cleaner, fresher, smoother.

SO, Be Happy—Go Lucky. Enjoy the better-tasting cigarette—Lucky Strike.

LUCKIES TASTE BETTER Cleaner, Fresher, Smoother!

Symphonic Band Concert May 10 and 11

The San Francisco State College Symphonic Band (above), with Director Edwin C. Kruth and Assistant Director William E. Cook, will give its formal spring concert on the evenings of May 10 and 11 in the main auditorium of the Creative Arts building. Featured in the Band are about 100 State students, most of whom are either music majors or minors. And, as has been said in columns of this newspaper, this year's Symphonic Band is probably one of the best in the organization's history. Highlighting the concert will be the playing of a new transcription of Moussorgsky's "Night on Bald Mountain," Williams' Symphony in C Minor which was written especially for symphonic band, Salzedo's "Rhumba from Scintillation" (a harp solo) by Maria Muribus, and Persichetti's "Psalm for Band." The State Symphonic Band will also perform works of Bach, Franck, Rimsky-Korsakov, Strauss, Debussy, Sibelius and Anderson. Next Monday and Tuesday evenings' performances will begin at 8:15 p.m. The admissions are 25 cents for high school students, 50 cents for college students and 75 cents for the general public.

STUDENT PLAYS MODERNS' WORKS

By ROBERT M. KLANG

On Monday, April 26, in our main auditorium, an audience of about 150 attended a performance of modern violin music that causes us to ask why we do not hear more performances of contemporary music in today's concert halls.

Ronald Stoffel, brilliant young violinist in S.F. State's music department, assisted by Bernhard Abramowitsch, played compositions of Stravinsky, Berg, Kohs, Satie and Bartok. And I think we must say that as far as Mr. Stoffel's playing is concerned the concert was superb.

Not often do we hear a concert of the nature of Mr. Stoffel's—a concert made up entirely of compositions by modern composer. Solo performers in particular usually try to display their versatility and to avoid monotony by playing works from various musical periods.

By playing the works he did, Mr. Stoffel showed no lack of versatility. Particularly his performance of Stravinsky's "Suite Italienne" and Bartok's "Rhapsody No. 2" displayed a well developed, mature technique—a technique which includes a fine sense of dynamics, tone, and division. And with this technique he was able to move the audience no less than if he had played Paganini or Brahms.

Composition-wise, the "Serenata" of the Stravinsky suite and the "Friss" of the Bartok rhapsody I thought the highlights of the concert. The "Serenata" is a rather slow, melodic piece which has a strongly masculine sensuousness and, hence, is a hard, but genuine, romance. The Bartok "Friss" is a series of Hungarian folk tunes well integrated into a swift-moving, rhythmic piece.

As far as the other works Mr. Stoffel played—Alban Berg's Violin Concerto, Ellis Kohs, "Sonatine," and Erik Satie's "Things Seen to the Right and to the Left (without glasses)"—I found creatively lacking when comparing them with the Bartok and Stravinsky compositions.

The Berg concerto, based on a twelve-tone scale, seems to force the issue of music in the modern mode. In other words, it appears as though Berg's motive is mainly uniqueness and not aesthetic value. (Incidentally, the piano part of the concerto, I think, is far superior to the violin part. It is stronger, more fully developed and, in general, more exciting.)

The Kohs and Satie numbers are extremely light works. And there is little "body" to counterbalance this lightness. Therefore, it seems to me they become forcefully humorous.

Despite the above-mentioned quality of a few of the works he played, I am sure we can thank Mr. Stoffel for giving a brilliant performance

Entrance Committee Will Convene Here

The second meeting of the Committee on State College Entrance Requirements will be held at San Francisco State College on May 19th and 11th.

The committee is made up of representatives of all the state colleges in California and from the State Department of Education. The chief purpose of this meeting is to hear reports on comprehensive studies made of admissions criteria at Fresno State College and San Francisco State College.

Dr. Arthur Hall has conducted the studies at San Francisco State and Dean Forrest Brown at Fresno State.

S.F. State Frolics will be held Saturday, May 8, in the Men's Gym. The newly elected Queen and her princess will rein over the festivities. The Queen, Dolores Garrison, was sponsored by Alpha Zeta Sigma. Princess Terry Martini was sponsored by Tri Gamma and Princess Rose Ann Parella by Alpha Chi Alpha. Donkey basketball will take place from 8-9:30 and the Associated Student's Dance will start at 9:30. Music by Dale Alstrom's band.
